

MILITARY CHILDREN'S PROGRAM NEWS

LA Unified School District Implements a Program for Military Children and Their Families

The number of military children affected by deployment of a parent or family member has significantly increased in the past few years. The deployment cycle often changes their lives dramatically. In support of military connected children, LAUSD is offering services and support to K-12 students who attend schools within our District. Direct services including children's groups, consultation, training, and coordination of resources and referrals, are available to military connected children, their families and school staff.
